DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-25, 29, 30 and 32-67 are pending. Applicant cancelled claims 26-28 and 31.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 1-25, 29, 30 and 32-67 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Martin et al., US 6,397,189.

Martin discloses a digitally distributed entertainment system that may accept payment for services where entertainment units 13 culling content from a master list 27 and a subset of the master list (a local list 93) that is distributed over a LAN from a host computer that comprises a wide area network (WAN) 11.

To have provided a personal computer having a graphical user interface connected to a WAN and LAN and download content from a master list for Martin would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. Doing such would implement a content download from a well known graphical user interface system. Regarding the particular entertainment unit and peripheral devices, e.g. local memory device, the particular user interface and couplings, infrared readers, payment device, activity logs, would have been an obvious design choice for one of ordinary skill in the art as such components/technology were common knowledge at the time of Applicant's invention.

Applicant's May 10, 2004 REMARKS have been reviewed, but are not convincing. It is noted that that Applicant's claim language focused on is intended use. As is, is "may" not occur. The lists recited in the claim language do not correlate with the REMARKS presented.

Regarding amended claim11, it is noted that this further reads upon a "master play list" that is accessed and played locally by a user, e.g. radio play person. This is not deemed novel.

4. Further pertinent references of interest are noted on the attached PTO-892.

Priority

5. Applicant's claim for domestic priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) is acknowledged. Priority is granted pursuant to Applicant's May 10, 2004 REMARKS.

Conclusion

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Andrew Joseph Rudy whose telephone number is 703-308-7808. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday thru Friday, 7:30 a.m until 6 p.m.
